CALIFORNIA

Maternal Mental Health NOW

The mission of Maternal Mental Health NOW is to remove barriers to the prevention, screening, and treatment of prenatal and postpartum depression in Los Angeles County. MMHN believes that addressing mental health during the perinatal (pre-conception to one year postpartum) period is as important as screening for gestational diabetes, and that a parent's emotional well-being can have as much of an impact on the infant's life as the nutrition that the baby receives in the womb. MMHN works with healthcare providers, health systems, and state and local governments to make the prevention, screening, and treatment of perinatal anxiety and depression part of the standard of prenatal and postpartum care.
